

2. No, I don't. But wait a minute; I think she is sometimes seen here around the church. "Maybe she is sick and she has to take a tablet."

1. Look over there! She must be died. Do you know her, doctor?

4. " She made me attended to her. She was so unhappy that she could be easily distinguished among all the children who had come to the shopping centers next to the church, especially when we had our great occasion, the Christ's Birth."

3. How do you know?

5. The doctor told his secretary to help him to pick the girl up.

"If an ambulance didn't come, we should take her ourselves to the hospital. I'm sure when she was well; she was selling matches or something else to earn money and to heat herself, and not to buy a Christmas tree for a wealthy family." told the doctor.
