

In God We Trust Who was the wisest?

It was the first session after exams. The teacher asked the students which made the students' eyes frozen. The teacher knew who had cheated in the previous exams but let nobody know who was faulty.

"For the first time I want give you a good reward for your cheat. Do you know who the wisest is?", he said in the silent class. "and who a good leader is? "

One of my classmates raised his hands and calmly said, " I think the wisest is who works wisely and by wisely I mean that I learn anything through wise thinking. "

"Good!" the teacher eagerly kept on. "But what do you call the one who does stupid tasks?"

"Stupid.", all the class said.

"You come to school to learn thinking wisely. This chance is given to you to learn in a friendly atmosphere. If you lose your chance, it means that you've lost your opportunity to learn new things and to correct your behavior."

"So who is the best teacher now?"

"My faults are my best teachers. Because they help me to think wisely and to correct my behavior.", I told.

"Congratulation! This is one of IMAM ALI's sayings: the wisest people are who have eyesight to one's faults."
